

One Day One Focus to accentuate women's ministries

JACKSON, MS (Special) – Woman's Missionary Union auxiliary of the Mississippi Baptist Convention is among the sponsors of One Day One Focus, a virtual training event that will bring together women's ministry leaders, women in ministry, missionaries, and church planting wives from around the globe.

Designed, planned, and led by women's ministry consultants from multiple Baptist state conventions, this four-hour training will address the needs you have right now in your women's ministry. Based on Ephesians 4:1-16, the goal of OneDay OneFocus is to help those involved in women's ministry to understand that, while we all have differing roles in kingdom work, our aim is the same: to make disciples.

Susie Hawkins is the keynote speaker and Emily Rhyder from Providence Church in Raleigh, N.C., will lead worship. Women's ministry consultants from many of the sponsoring state conventions will lead the breakout sessions, which will focus on the areas of:

- Disciple-making.
- Spiritual disciplines.
- Leadership.
- Ministry in a COVID-19 context.
- The needs of women.

In addition, participants will have the opportunity to hear from International Mission Board (IMB) missionaries and North American Mission Board (NAMB) church planter wives about their work and opportunities for partnership. Representatives from the women's programs of the six Southern Baptist seminaries will also participate to share what they offer women's ministry leaders.

The event will conclude with a time of corporate prayer for our nation and churches.

Cost is $10 per person. All money collected beyond the cost of hosting OneDay OneFocus will be given to the Annie Armstrong Easter Offering for North American Missions and the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for International Missions.
